

Second and Third Probate Judges for Wasatch County 1868-1874

Who was 1st?
John Wesley Witt

Abram Hatch was the second Probate Judge for Wasatch County while the first County Courthouse was planned. He served from 1868 to 1874.

The third Probate Judge was Thomas Huskinson Giles, who served from 1874 to 1884, during the completion of construction of the first County Courthouse.

The period of construction was from 1878 to 1882; about four years. It was built of carefully cut red sandstone taken from the Lake Creek red sandstone quarry belonging to John Crook et al. The masonry has all the "earmarks" of stone mason Elijah Averett, who was also the stone cutter and mason for the Wasatch Stake Tabernacle, the second Abram Hatch home at 81 East Center Street in Heber City and others.

The Wasatch County Jail was built circa 1872 when the Wasatch Probate Court was authorized to build a county jail and maintain it.

In those early years:

The Probate Judge received a $3.00 fee per case. (?)

The Selectmen received $4.50 fee per case. (?)

The Clerks received $2.50 fee per case. (?)

Our current County Council members would surely gasp and choke on that kind of pay, now-a-days.

Who was 1st?

Second and Third Probate Judges for Wasatch County 1868-1874

Abram Hatch was the second Probate Judge for Wasatch County while the first County Courthouse was planned. He served from 1868 to 1874.

The third Probate Judge was Thomas Huskinson Giles, who served from 1874 to 1884, during the completion of construction of the first County Courthouse.

The period of construction was from 1878 to 1882; about four years. It was built of carefully cut red sandstone taken from the Lake Creek red sandstone quarry belonging to John Crook et al. The masonry has all the "earmarks" of stone mason Elijah Averett, who was also the stone cutter and mason for the Wasatch Stake Tabernacle, the second Abram Hatch home at 81 East Center Street in Heber City and others.

The Wasatch County Jail was built circa 1872 when the Wasatch Probate Court was authorized to build a county jail and maintain it.

In those early years:

The Probate Judge received a $3.00 fee per case. (?)

The Selectmen received $4.50 fee per case. (?)

The Clerks received $2.50 fee per case. (?)

Our current County Council members would surely gasp and choke on that kind of pay, now-a-days.